Our Negative Ion Bands!

A must for ANYONE who carries a cell phone!

Historically, people were more connected to the earth. They spent more time outdoors with their feet and bodies directly on the ground. But nowadays, most people have little direct contact with the earth. As a result, our bodies build up positive static electric charges that can't be released unless we connect to the ground. Grounding neutralizes those positive charges by absorbing negative electrons.

The Negative Ion Band provides a high concentration of negative electrons to its user to balance you out.

These negative ions may help reduce electromagnetic pollution from tech devices. Negative ions can counteract the harmful, energy-draining effect of the positive ions produced by these devices. Wear it 24/7
