

STATEMENT

Fragrance and scent - Olive Tree People Brands

Every living bio-active plant substance carries its uniqueness in the form of color, potency, and scent. If only one of these components is changed through industrial processing, thus changing its individuality, it will be deprived of its potency, magic, and soul. In nature, there are no bioactive and thus souled plant substances that do not have a scent. For example, cold-pressed bioactive oils can smell of freshly cut grass or apples, almonds and orange blossoms, or herbs can not only smell of rosemary, lavender, or sage, but also carry their surroundings and the scent and energy of their soil. The endless diversity of nature.

All Olive Tree People brands are bio active and free of any synthetic fragrances. Over 50% of Oliveda face products and 100% of all LA Dope products are formulated without the addition fragrance.

For all other products, the up to 21 individual essential oils are not declared but are listed under the legally prescribed collective term "perfume" in the ingredients. Since the same "perfume" declaration can also be used for synthetic fragrances, we would like to emphasize once again that Olive Tree People does not process any synthetic fragrances in its brands, but only uses essential oils of the highest quality, which come from controlled, ecological cultivation originating from the Mediterranean.
